NEW CHERRINGTON HOSPITAL---LOGAN

Dr. M. H. Cherrington

Was raised in Gallia County, Ohio. He spent his early life as the "boy on the farm" and received the foundation of his education in the country school. Later he acquired a high-school and collegiate education at Rio Grande College.

In 1899 he entered the Ohio Medical University at Columbus, graduating with the degree of Doctor of Medicine and Surgery, with high honors, in 1903. He first practiced his profession in Meigs county, and then removed to Logan in 1904, where in the past three years he has had phenomenal success, and built up a large practice. Realizing the need of a hospital in Logan, he, in connection with his brother, Dr. J. S. Cherrington, of Bidwell, O., purchased the Robert Wright mansion on Main street, just west and opposite from the Logan Opera House. This magnificent home of twenty spacious and handsome rooms, the Drs. Cherrington converted into "The New Cherrington Hospital."

THE CHERRINGTON HOSPITAL is the latest much needed public adjunct to the city-ward growth and uplift of the town of Logan. For some years the proposition of a hospital at Logan, because of its being centrally located for the surrounding valley, has been ripe to a certainty. It remained for the Drs. Cherrington, two successful and public spirited physicians of our city, to put into operation Logan's first hospital. They purchased the Robert Wright homestead on Main street, an ideal mansion for a hospital. It is a magnificent building, of twenty commodious rooms, and is now equipped with all the latest furniture and appliances for the successful operation of a first class hospital. Complete and modern in equipment and appointments and is conducted with ability in detail, affording every advantage for the treatment of all classes of diseases and for the successful performance of any surgical work. In the arrangement of the building, both physicians' offices are located on the first floor and are furnished most modern in every detail. Handsome leather furniture and massive oak tables, are for the comfort of the waiting public in the commodious reception room, while to the rear of this room is the consultation room, equipped with great libraries and handsome desks for the physicians.

The east front room is the large operating apartment all finished in white enamel and most thoroughly appointed in every detail for surgical work of the institution. It is equipped with X-ray outfit so necessary in the practice of surgery and the treatment of cancer and other skin diseases.

To the rear on the first floor is the commodious culinary department in charge of a most efficient chef de cuisine who is skilled in the preparation of food and nourishment for the sick.

There are sixteen fully furnished and equipped chambers for the sick, with bath and every convenience. The beds and furniture are of the latest for hospital equipment, and are modernized on sanitary principles. The sick rooms are in charge of Miss E. May Dudley, of Columbus, a graduate of the Columbus Protestant Hospital. Miss Dudley is well known here in having been very successful in her work nursing serious typhoid cases. Her heroic effort in the almost hopeless cases of Messrs. Ola Price and Dwight Mathias, has brought to her the appreciation and confidence of our people. Assisting Miss Dudley, is her sister, also from Columbus. There is in connection with the Hospital a handsome Ambulance that is of much importance, upon our streets and of which our town is justly proud.

Drs. Cherrington, though never both leaving the hospital at the same time, give full attention to their practice in Logan and vicinity, where they have built up a large patronage.

Though the hospital was thrown open to the public on April 1st, yet it was not fully equipped until May 1st, because of delay in shipment of furniture. The first operation of the institution was performed on Thursday of last week, upon Mrs. Walter Rensoner and the operation was most successful. There are several patients in the hospital at present, and applications made for dates for several probable operations, if surgery cannot be avoided. The Drs. Cherrington pride themselves in their many cases of restored health without the use of the knife.

They have been fortunate in their many critical cases of typhoid fever in Logan in the past year, and give special attention to diseases peculiar to the female sex. The hospital is equipped with the hot air bath and the best of electrical devices, static, galvanic and Faradic currents for the treatment of all chronic diseases, nervous disorders, rheumatism, female infirmities, neurasthenia, nervous prostration, insomnia, migraine, locomotor ataxia and the different varieties of paralysis. Also they have installed a specially efficacious apparatus for the treatment of catarrhal affections of the ear, nose and throat. The latest electric light is the latest installation in the hospital for the treatment of spinal, lung and pelvic derangements. Also a wonderful treatment for skin diseases.

Cases of fever that will take weeks and months for recovery are cared for and nursed better at the hospital than at home, and at much less cost.

The Cherrington Hospital, this magnificent addition to Logan is now fully equipped and open for business, and is getting a better start than was ever dreamed of in the fondest hopes of its promoters.

Dr. J. S. Cherrington

Was born in Warsaw, Mo., but early came with his parents to Ohio, and worked hard on the farm. In the winter time he attended the country school, and took an academic course of study in the Ewington Academy. At the age of 20 years he was appointed to a position in the office at the Athens State Hospital.

He later attended medical lectures in Starling Medical College at Columbus, and graduated from the Ohio Medical University in medicine and surgery, in 1897, giving special attention to surgery, and is now considered one of the most skilled and successful surgeons in southern Ohio. He practiced medicine ten years in Gallia county, serving that county two years as coroner, and was honored with six years service on the United States Board of Examining Surgeons. His forming partnership with his brother in establishing the Cherrington Hospital in Logan, brought him here, and he is one of the physicians in attendance all the time.

Icy Slope

TO AMELIA, VA. FOLKS.

The winter has passed us by, and the spring is here again, but we haven't any ripe strawberries and cherries, as yet. Now, my dear Va. friend, you must not try to feed me on strawberries and think I will take it as a substitute for the fish. What happened that we did not hear of your trip to the fish pond, or was it fisherman's luck, tired of fishing and hungry for grub. You must not think the stranger of Icy Slope is sitting here for this hill to come down and swallow him. There is too much doing. If you want to see him you know where he stays, and the road is just where it was last November.

Preaching at Zion, last Saturday night and Sunday. There was quite a large crowd gathered Sunday evening for preaching, but none had been given out for that time as the preacher goes from this place to Bremen.
